NO. 430.

TAYLOR Mfg. Co., St. Louis.—5,000 DOLLARS—JNO. W. LOVE, New York.

Believing that a really Fine Cigar, properly advertised for a reasonable length of time, can be made as staple an article as flour. I have induced the TAYLOR MANUFACTURING COMPANY to set aside the above fund to be used as I see fit in carrying out my ideas.

Fac Simile of Label, Size Reduced. Colors, Rose and Nickel.

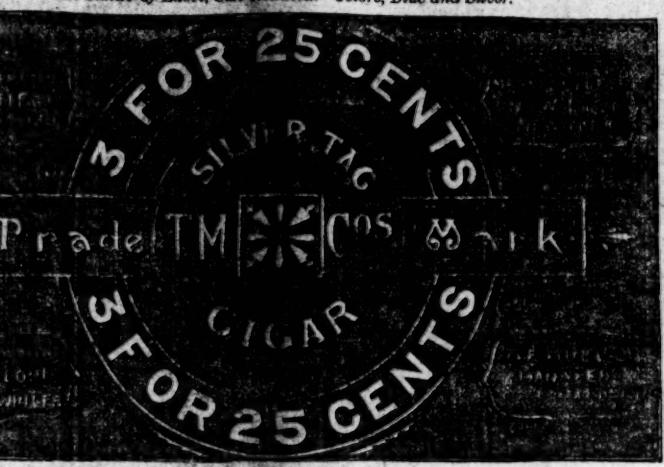

TO THE PUBLIC.

We pledge our word that the sum mentioned above is not taken out of the goods—that the Tag Cigars cost us more than any we have ever placed upon the market for the same money. That we not expect to make a cent on this transaction until our sales have amounted to at least 2,000,000.

Yours, respectively,

TAYLOR MFG. CO.,

Fac Simile of Label, Size Reduced. Colors, Blue and Silver.

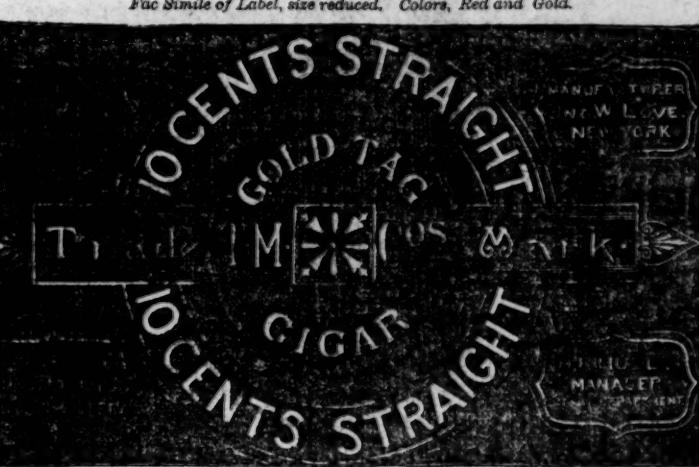

TO THE PUBLIC.

I pledge my word that the Taylor Manufacturing Company does not take the sum mentioned above out of the goods. That they pay full price of same and that I stake my reputation as a manufacturer upon the Tag Cigars and guarantee them to be the very best ever placed on the market to be retailed at prices named. Yours, respectfully,

JNO. W. LOVE,

New York.

Fac Simile of Label, size reduced. Colors, Red and Gold.

The brands—Nickel-Tag, Silver-Tag and Gold-Tag, with the appliances of metal or imitation metal tags or Medallions to the ribbons of the bundles as a trade mark, is fully protected by letters patent, and any infringement of same will be vigorously prosecuted.

OUR METHOD OF INTRODUCING ABOVE BRANDS.—We will pursue every legitimate means to produce a demand among the consumers for these brands. On either Saturday or Sunday of every week will be published, in one of the leading daily papers, a full list of dealers, both in city and country, handling these goods. This will be kept up for six months, positively, and longer if necessary, to thoroughly introduce these brands. We will give away no Trade Signs, Pitchers, Indians, Watches, Showcases or prizes of any kind. We will, however, give to each customer a few neat and pretty cards to be placed in the window to show the goods may be had inside.

TO RETAIL DEALERS.—We have one price for these goods and it is no secret.

Nickel-Tag, $35 per M; Silver-Tag $60 per M; Gold-Tag, $70 per M. No deviation from these prices. Your name will little to sample the goods and pass your judgment. Retail prices: Nickel-Tag, 5 cents straight; Silver-Tag, 8 for 25 cents; Gold-Tag, 10 cents straight.

TO RETAIL DEALERS.—We have one price for these goods and it is no secret.

Nickel-Tag, $35 per M; Silver-Tag $60 per M; Gold-Tag, $70 per M. No deviation from these prices. Your name will appear in advertisement for sixty days from date of last purchase. Goods guaranteed.

TO JOBBERS.—We will be pleased to fill your orders for these goods at all times and will allow you a commission of 5 per cent on same.

TO OUR COMPETITORS.—We boldly assert that these are the best goods in the market and challenge you one and all to produce as good goods for the money. We also add that any man who asserts that the money spent introducing these goods is taken out of the same utters a deliberate and malicious falsehood.

We are also sole agents for Jno. W. Love's justly celebrated Cupid & Cigar, and in addition we carry the finest and

The Official Canvass of New York City Completed.

Showing Cleveland's Net Plurality in the State to be 1,147.

Detailed Returns From all the Assembly Districts—The Tedious Fight Ended—And Victory Rests on the Democratic Banner—Hoop-La!

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

New York, November 15.—The Board of Aldermen adopted a resolution this morning that they would take up the electoral vote of the remaining assembly districts of this city and count that, to the exclusion of everything else. Both sides agreed to this procedure in order that the result of the official canvass for President might be known to-day. At about 1 o'clock the work had been finished, so far as the electoral work of the board of election. The returns from a few of the election districts had to pass through some light corrections, and the session adjourned at 6 o'clock this evening, when the formal report of the electoral vote in the city will be made. While the precise figures cannot be given till that report is made, it is certain that the plurality for Governor Cleveland will be.

ABOUT 1,137.

It may be half a dozen votes more or half dozen less, but that as it may be, the fact that he has a plurality above and beyond the reach of any counting-out process is now admitted by all. Col. Billis, leading attorney for the Republicans, has at last surrendered. He said in the Council Chamber this morning that the Republican State Committee had been aware for fully a week that Cleveland was elected, but did not deem it wise to admit it publicly.

THE TRIBUNE

will be compelled to accept Cleveland's election to-morrow morning, as will all the Republican papers throughout the country. Democratic leaders have been advised that a formal protest should have been made by the Republicans. The truth is that there was, from the first, no ground upon which to base a contest, and this keeping of the country in suspense for ten days was

A PIECE OF CRIMINAL FOLLY.

The Blaine leaders are terribly depressed this afternoon. They come at last face to face with the defeat that they have been refusing to acknowledge, under some vague impression that the tide might yet be turned. Elkins and Jones both retired from the National Committee in disgrace.

They are dismissed by their party from Blaine down to the ward-bummers of New York City for their incompetency.

BLAINE SAYS

he lost through mismanagement, and the narrow plurality that Governor Cleveland receives gives strength to that view of the case. To Elkins and Jones and all the associates and hangers-on of the Republican Committee the defeat is next to extinction itself, and their humiliation is enough to evoke even the sympathy of their political enemies. They are very certain never to figure again as the managers of a National campaign.

1147.

NEW YORK, November 15, 2 p.m.—A hasty computation by the clerk in charge of the city returns of which the plurality for Cleveland in the entire state will be 1,147. He figures Blaine made a net gain in the city by the canvass of 150 votes.

New York County.

NEW YORK, November 15.—The Board of Supervisors met in the Aldermanic Chamber at 10 o'clock this morning, and resumed the work of counting the vote of New York County. The Fifteenth Assembly District was completed without any material change from the original count. In one of the election districts of the Sixteenth.

SIXTEENTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT

A slight error was discovered. The vote of the district was referred to the Committee on Corrected Returns. Otherwise there was no material change in the count of the Sixteenth District, which was completed at 10:35. The Seventeenth Assembly District was completed at 11:15 a.m. The count of the First District of the Eighteenth Assembly District was objected to on the ground that the total number of votes cast for Blaine was shown to be 108, while it was 107. The count was finally set aside, and the election ticket received 81 votes, instead of 80, as recorded.

The vote of the First Election District was referred to the Committee on Corrected Returns. The Twenty-first Election District of the Eighteenth Assembly District has been reached without discovery of other errors.

The canvass of

THE EIGHTEENTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT was finished at noon. No other errors were found than the one in the First Election District. The Nineteenth Assembly District was completed without incident. It was resolved to request the committee on corrected returns to give preference to the electoral ticket. The canvass of returns for the Twenty-third Assembly District was completed at 12:30 p.m. without any objection being made.

IN THE TWENTY-FIRST ASSEMBLY DISTRICT no objections or changes were made. Five defective ballots and four blank ballots were found.

WHITE LEAD.

Another Attempt to Form a Corroder's Pool to Be Made.

The slate lead corrodors have not been able to completely the pool which was arranged for at the National meeting some time since. Thirty of the American corrodors had agreed upon the pool, and but a very few were on the outside, but there were elements which could not be brought into harmony.
There was trouble in the Chicago and St. Louis districts, and many of the corrodors did not like the method of punishing breach of pool rules at the discretion of the committee. The desire of the majority of the corrodors that the punishment for each of the corrodors be the same and fixed, and that this punishment should not be so severe as to dissolve the combination. It is now proposed to attempt a new combination. The slate lead corrodors will be and annual assessments of $1,000, 25,000 and $3,000 shall be made on each corrodor, according as his product approximates 1,000, 3,000 and 5,000 tons.
The slate lead corrodors will take the chance of being expelled, but the details left open for the consideration of the parties. It is a matter of course that the corrodors will be called in the near future, if it is possible, a pool will be tinkered up,

Elizabeth Quenner wants $5,000 damages for the death of her husband, caused, as she alleges in a suit filed by her to-day against the St. Louis Iron and Mountain and Southern Railway Company, by one of the cars striking and running over him.

Wants Damages for a Discharge.

Joachim Walz, who was formerly employed with W. H. Gummersell & Co., as superintendent at Kansas City, is now in St. Louis, and the vote is Yes, 134,670; No, 134,670; majority, Yes, 13,325.

discretion of the committee. The desire of the majority of the corrodors that the punishment for each of the corrodors be the same and fixed, and that this
punishment should not be so severe as to dissolve

$3,000 shall be made on each corrodor, according as his product approximates 1,000, 3,000 and 5,000 tons.

will be called in the near future, if it is possible, a pool will be tinkered up,

TWELVE PAGES.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1884.

As we go to press the telegraph announces that the Board of Supervisors of New York City have finished the canvass of the vote for electors. Their report gives CLEVELAND a plurality in the State, ensuring him the Electoral vote of the State, and, consequently, a majority of all the electoral votes. This settles the question of the Presidency, and ends all dispute. It does not, however, end the responsibility of the party which has delayed the settlement and disturbed the country by wild and foolish claims which the claimants know to be false. Hereafter in any disputed count or question of fact, the people will know just how much value to allow to protests or pretensions put forward by any of the extraordinary beings who have blundered in the mismanagement of the Republican party during this whole campaign. We congratulate all good citizens, without regard to party, on the happy ending of all difficulty.

The count is made.

This is a day of thanksgiving.

The New York plurality is officially declared.

BLAINE does not give up; he has nothing to give up.

Will our Republican friends kindly permit us to celebrate now?

The Maine claimant takes his place beside the Tidewater Claimant.

The grand old party is not "resigned to die"; it is "obliged to die."

All bets on the election not heretofore paid are due and payable to-night.

Who is responsible for the disturbance to business during the past week on account of the uncertainty of the election?

The farce of delaying the count is over. The Board of Supervisors this morning decided to canvas the electoral returns at once.

No doubt a large number of Prohibition votes were thrown away on ST. JOHN. But the fact remains that most of them were thrown away on BLAINE.

The latest political ad dit is that St. Louis is certain to go Republican in the spring. There is, under no circumstances, a larger Democratic majority than fifteen hundred, and it is estimated that in April three thousand St. Louis Democrats will be in Washington looking after offices.

The statesmen who have been hoodooing the Southern negroes with menaces of being sold into slavery in the event of a Democratic victory already have about a million dollars' worth of incendiary fires to answer for in the South. As the loss falls chiefly on Northern insurance companies, the idea must be considered a failure.

The Globe-Democrat this morning gives CLEVELAND's "apparent plurality" as 1,835, "subject to diminution by the Canvassing Board's corrections in New York City." As this is an increase of nearly 500 over yesterday morning's apparent plurality from the same source, the returns are subject to increase rather than to diminution.

MOROSINI's romantic daughter and her husband declare that the fitters she has received to abandon her husband and her open bourse engagement are large, but not large enough to shake her purpose. If they want to raise the old man clean out of his boots, they should go out into the streets with a monkey and a hand-organ, and that on him.

SUPERVISOR O'CONNOR (Republican) is in favor of counting the vote of New York slowly. If BLAINE had a majority Supervisor O'CONNOR would be in favor of neglecting everything else and counting the electoral vote at once. Supervisor O'CONNOR should be taught that the small campaign trick that he is trying to play belongs to the past and is now obsolete.

THE superior intelligence of the Republican party is one of the things which we have been asked to take for granted, yet now it appears that several millions of Republican voters are now running around the country in direful apprehension of being sold into slavery. There is reason for believing that the percentage of illiteracy among the Republican voters is greater than it is among the Democrats.

CLEVELAND's Cabinet is not yet complete. He is not suffering from neglect, however, as he has thirty-eight Secretaries of State, nineteen Attorney-Generals, twenty-four Secretaries ries of the Interior (including CARL SCHURZ), and other ministers in proportion. There are several counties to be heard from, however, and as it costs nothing to suggest new names, the list might as well be kept open until March.

The announcement that VICTORIA MOROSINI-SCHELLING has an engagement to appear in opera bouffe is garnished with the statement that she is receiving offers of large sums, especially from her family, to break the engagement. This is the first time old man MOROSINI has ever figured as a public benefactor, and if he accomplishes his benevolent object his name should be inscribed with that of ABOU BAKR ABDER in the list of those who love their fellow men.

DAVID DAVIS sat astride the fence for many years weakly waiting for the Illinois Legislature to get there. It is now beautifully poised thereon, the Democrats having a majority of one in one house, and the Republicans a majority of one in the other. But DAVID, dazed by the prospect of a great Blaine victory, and confused by the noise of the captains and the shouting, had lost his balance and fallen off a moment too soon, and on the wrong side, too. His answer was in substance that he was no bigger and beat both wine and beer every day.

PASSEUR ASTURI, who objects to using retired prematurely, is now said to be considering the acceptance of the presidency of Union College, which the trustees of that institution have persistently pressed upon him.

PASSEUR CYRUS HAMLIN of Middlebury (Vt.) College and his wife celebrated their silver wedding last week, and the doctor gave an amusing account of the few adherents who managed to get out of the house without being discovered. But for the most part, the house was a scene of great hilarity and fun.

IN his speech at the Tammany celebration last night, Mr. RANDALL laid down an admirable programme for the Democrats in Congress. He spoke emphatically in favor of recovering the forfeitable land grants, and said: "The Democrats must abolish all unnecessary office; they must at once bring the Government down to economy, and must at once reduce the extraordinarily great revenues." This probably means that Mr. RANDALL will be prepared to submit a measure of his own for this object to the next session of Congress. It is known that an essential part of his plan is to increase the internal revenue taxes first, or greatly reduce them, and simplify the system so as to get rid of a great many costly offices. A majority for free whisky can hardly be mustered in the present Congress, but Mr. RANDALL may be able to propose a compromise scheme for reducing both duties and direct taxes which can pass both houses.

THE attempt of WARREN MCCHESNEY to escape the law by trusting to his chances of getting a pardon from Governor CRITTENDEN, shows how low the Chief Executive of the great State of Missouri has sunk even in the estimation of his "pals." They count on his friendship and assistance as securely as if he was one of them. They assume that there is nothing in his high official position, nothing in the duty which he owes to the two and a half million citizens of the State, which will prevent him from abusing his power and prostituting the high authority he holds to the dirty work of a convicted felon. Never has a more bitter insult been placed upon a Governor of any State. The exposure of the POST-DISPATCH yesterday has probably spoiled the game, and Mr. MCCHESNEY will enter the Penitentiary walls under the governorship of a man who will allow him to work out his sentence. But CRITTENDEN never will be able to wash himself of the imputation that MCCHESNEY counted on him to join in cheating the law.

THE DUCHESS of Albany is said to find court life at Blenheim dreary beyond measure.

Mrs. Lockwood is now practicing law at the rate of ten miles an hour on her tricycle.

It is now known that Charlotte Corday was descended from Cornville, the poet.

THE late Mrs. KNOWLES of Worcester, Mass., left for the University of the Tidewater Claimant.

SARAH BEHNKE, of whose tribulations the cable tells so much, is rehearsing Theodore now.

FRANK CHAPMAN's estate, valued at $100,000, goes to his widow, Mrs. Henrietta Chapman.

THE name Sarah means princess. A princess should never allow herself to be addressed as Sal.

QUEEN VICTORIA has a mania for war reliefs. Divorced couples should send her their wedding rings.

GAIL Lockwood it seems does not give up. She is waiting for a Count, but no Count has proposed yet.

BLAINE does not give up; he has nothing to give up.

Will our Republican friends kindly permit us to celebrate now?

The Maine claimant takes his place beside the Tidewater Claimant.

The grand old party is not "resigned to die"; it is "obliged to die."

All bets on the election not heretofore paid are due and payable to-night.

ONE BOSTON Democrat won eighteen hats on the election and his wife will make use of sixteen of them to a great advantage.

THE LADY ISLAND widow kept a thief up an apple tree until he agreed to pluck the pears, quell stealing, go to work, and eventually bring up in the State Legislature as a self-made man.

COMMENTING on the failure of BLAINE to receive a sufficiency of votes, the New York Tribune gives itself away in the following manner:

THE LADY ISLAND widow is half afraid he may make up his mind to a full-fledged career. But it is good enough to be true.

MRS. DR. KALMUS intended to fight her battle with the Grand Duke of Hesse to the bitter end. Her counsel, who is confident that he will be able to quash the divorce, intends to move for the appointment of another Senator of Justice to hear the case again. If he fails, it will be refused he will apply for a new trial, and in the event of this failing, the case will be removed from the incapable and treacherous of Darmstadt to the Imperial Court at Leipzig.

THE mail from Honolulu brings the news of the death of Mrs. Berenice Bishop, who was well known to Washingtonians and to officers of the navy who have visited Honolulu. She was of high rank, being a connection of the royal line of the Kamehamehas, and had not been the successor of Kamehameha V., had she not declined the throne. She was the wife of Charles R. Bishop, an American banker at Honolulu, and had travelled extensively.

THE METROPOLITAN PRESS.

What the Editors of the New York Journals Are Saying To-Day.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch:

NEW YORK, November 15.—The World says: "The Democracy has lived without power for twenty-four years. Eight years ago it elected the President and received a quarter million plurality in the popular vote. Four years ago it polled nearly one-half of 9,000,000 of votes. It now elects a sterility of seven electoral votes and about a quarter of a million on the popular vote. The popular vote in its might, to grow stronger than ever under Grover Cleveland's administration. There will be no 'party line' on the Democratic side. The principles of Democracy, based on liberty and equality, will live longer than ever."

THE WORLD.

The Tribune has yet to learn that on its merits can never reach them by gratuitous distribution paid for out of campaign funds. It used to be thought that "shush" was one of the regular pecuniary resources of a paper, and that its circulation depended on the management of the politicians outside of its own office. Now all of this passed away years ago, and nowadays no newspaper with any circulation or with any self-respect would permit its circulation to be interfered with by allowing its editorials to be used as campaign dodgers.

Walter Hornbuckle, who represented himself as a private investigator, was arrested from the police this evening, but has no evidence to hold him.

John B. Carroll, a well known and highly respectable citizen, died yesterday afternoon after a short illness. He leaves a wife and four grown children.

The last trial place of the gamblers in the city, the Wainwright, recommended the dismissal of the cases against Rodgers and Buckner, arrested a few days ago on a charge of having been in the city.

The court was passed, and the aggregate policy toward the gamblers will be abandoned for a short time.

All traffic over the Cairo, St. Louis, Illinois and St. Louis, Louisville and Nashville and Colorado Roads was delayed over three hours this morning on account of a wreck on the Louisville and Nashville track at the 11th and Locust streets in St. Louis. The regular morning Louisville and Nashville freight train, which leaves the yard at 5:30 a. m., was met by a double-headed engine, and the bridge collapsed, which a passenger train no effort was made to extend it beyond the limits of the city, and this policy is still pursued. The foundation of this passage being the superior quality of the beam manufactured, it became necessary to consider the advisability of enlarging the capacity of the beam, and when the post office had no evidence to hold him, he is justly proud of his work as a father of his child. Capable of availing himself of the experience of others in the same line of business, he has made many improvements made them objectionable, so that in his present establishment may be found not only a complete list of construction and mechanism, a perfect adaptation of every part and a harmonious whole, but a collection of modern contrivances that cannot be found elsewhere, because invented too recently for use in older establishments. Located for years at Ninth and Grant streets, the old Wainwright, which acquired a world-wide reputation both for their mechanism and the quality of beer manufactured, but it might be safe to say that these are surpassed by the magnificent structureately erected by the Wainwright Brewery Company, between Gratiot and Papin, and Barlow and Twelfth streets. Ellis Wainwright, who is the president of the company, and his shoulders are the burden of its management, has left nothing undone to make the new brewery a monument to his intelligence, experience and untiring industry.

It was built under his supervision, and he is justly proud of his work as a father of his child. PREPARING THE EXHIBIT.

The Display Which Will Go From This City to New Orleans.

The weekly meeting of the central committee for securing women's fancy work to be entered at the New Orleans' World's Fair was held at Mrs. Henderson's residence on last Thursday. Mrs. Allen, chairman of the art committee, reported the receipt of a water-colored painting from Mrs. Taylor; brass work from Miss Burroughs; pottery from Mrs. Williams, and from Mrs. Jaquelin.

An effort is now being made to secure the cravat work from the High School. The Henry Academy have been hard at work, and have obtained some valuable information through their extensive correspondence. They have made a classification by which all literary efforts will be rewarded according to their merit. A printed account of women's work will be given to all those who are in attendance at the New Orleans' Exposition. Mrs. Garneau has charge of the literary department, and Mrs. Ladd and Mrs. Comstock have charge of all miscellaneous exhibits. Several men and women have been appointed by Mrs. Allen, who has charge of everything in that line.

"The Russian Honeymoon," with a children's ball, will be presented at the Pickwick, shortly, under the auspices of the Wainwright, and the help meet expenses for the exhibit to be made at New Orleans.

The Tanners' Conference.

The Tanners' Conference, which commences here Monday evening, will be opened by a representative body. Delegations from Louisville, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston, Buffalo, Rochester and other trade centers are already announced, and many tanners from other districts will undoubtedly attend this conference individually. The Executive Committee is making arrangements to provide for the entertainment of the Leathern Geese that will be present at the Pickwick.

The principal economical feature is in the arrangement of the gas-compressing cylinders. As constructed in some machines, these give out but 70 or 80 per cent of their alleged efficiency. This results in a waste of fuel, inasmuch as a small space must be left for clearance between the head of the pump and the portion of the piston at the end of its stroke, the whole of the gas is not expelled. This clearance space remains fixed, and the piston is forced to move with a greater velocity, and the gas is compressed, which upon the downward stroke of the piston expands again and offers an increased resistance to the entrance of the gas.

The steam cylinder is horizontal, fastened to a heavy cast iron bed and provided with a hand-adjustable screw jack in order to insure economy of gas.

It contains two gas cylinders, which is twenty-five feet long and six stories high.

The first floor of the cylinder is the elevator and storage house, where the goods are arranged, ready for use, the second and fifth floors are used for the storage of the malt, rice and other supplies, while on the sixth floor, which is divided into two compartments, are located the Baudelot cooler, on the horizontal pipes of which the trickling beer is chilled in its descent. On the floor below is located a self-acting weighing automatic scale and feeder, which supplies the malt mill, where the malt is crushed and then conveyed to the hopper in the brew house. On the seventh floor is the rice surface cooler.

FINE ART.

The Night Classes of the St. Louis Art School.

The St. Louis School of Fine Arts, which is an adjunct of the Washington University is accomplishing its objects in a manner that must be exceedingly gratifying to its projectors and its friends. The night school opened last Monday evening with a better attendance than of previous seasons have had. While the day school has a far heavier attendance than the night school, the latter is not devoid of much practical benefit to the community. The former cultivates and develops the artistic spirit, and is well adapted to educate the taste of the attainment of a fair amount of art knowledge. Of course it has students who intend to devote themselves to art as a profession, but in the main those who attend the day school do so from a desire to receive a training which will enable them for their own edification, just as the majority of those who study music do so for the pleasure they may derive from it, and not with a view to make a living. The latter, however, finds advantages to those who must require them. Applications for admission to the night school were held by Prof. Dr. L. C. H. C. on November 10, and the one who succeeded in securing a place will find the character of those who applied the usefulness of the school would become immediately and strongly apparent. The night school is for the most part intelligent young artisans who are engaged in the professions of painting, engraving, mechanics, draughtsmen or engineers, and that so large a number of young artisans that even the school offers are appreciated, but there should be a still heavier attendance. Many are enterprising, energetic, but not so well-taught, for the lack of proper cultivation and development, in art, science, or taste. The night school is held on Monday evenings, and the sessions last two hours. The terms are said to be very reasonable.

Mr. W. H. Howe, the painter, ought to benefit by the convention of stock and ranch men which is an all-prevailing topic in this city at present. He is a painter of cattle, and has a good record for this branch of art. There are few successful cattle painters, few artists who have ability to paint cattle, and few who, if successful in that respect, are capable of painting a good landscape as the setting for their cattle. The cattle in his canvases are sentinel almost, while all of his pictures are marked by a breezy, out-door feeling. His landscapes are fine, and he who sees them can readily appreciate that in them, the subtle charm of the field or the pasture, the fresh atmosphere, the restful pool and the like, are all there. The cattle, however, lead a number of his best pictures to the Committee of Arrangements for the Cattle Convention for the purpose of ornamenting the hall. Several will be placed in the entrance, while a number will be hung in the nave in which the convention will be held. The cattle men will be met with admirers among the cattle men, and it is likely Mr. Howe will receive a number of valuable commissions.

A SALON PICTURE. Mr. John Frey is about to begin a picture which he intends to send to France for exhibition in the next Salon. It is a picture of a scene at the St. Louis Sketch Club. It will be entitled "Philistine Maidens Dethroned." It will be a picture of considerable size. There will be four figures in the picture, three young women, one the right, with Samson in the center taking a seat on a bench, and the other two to the rear of a massive grain-crushing machine. Mr. Frey will find much room for the exercise of his pictorial talents in this work.

The artist is a painter of cattle, and his picture will receive professional treatment, while the accessories of the composition will demand much study. The picture is of original composition. The subject is an excellent one. Samson, shorn of the source of his strength, his hair, is compelled by his love for Delilah to become a slave to the labor of the tannin and leers of the Philistines.

THE PETTES COLLECTION. The first art reception by a picture dealer this season took place at the studios of the galleries of the H. B. Petties Importing Company. Mr. Petties had issued a large number of invitations, and the result was a most successful affair. The first view of the pictures. Mr. Petties spent the summer months in purchasing in the studios at Paris, Montmartre, and the Louvre, and his general expression was that the selections were very happy ones. The collection is well worth seeing, as it will be a picture which will go to meet many of the highest excellencies. The names of the artists are for the greater part new to St. Louis, but the favorites are present also. The collection will be open to the public on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

ROEDERER & KOEHL intend soon to have an exhibition and sale. Their regular art sale will take place in November. Among the paintings which will be shown are a picture of a landscape, a picture of Italy by Baron Warper, and a fine example of George Inness, a landscape of great strength and beauty. Mr. Roedeler is expecting a number of pictures from Paris, and now in Paris, has several choice pictures from Mr. Breuer. There have been many fine color pictures in their gallery at present.

Ernest Baker, who is said to have a picture of himself and his wife, will have his picture in his studio in Chicago. The art critic of the Rambler says of him: "Ernest Baker, who has lately come to Chicago from Paris, has a picture of himself and his wife, which will be shown at an established reputation of many years' standing as an even-voiced man of high ability." He has a picture of himself and his wife, which will be shown at an established reputation of many years' standing as an even-voiced man of high ability.

A dancing club has been formed by the society belles and young men of the city, and the first ball or "cavalcade" will be on November 13 at 10 o'clock.
